Crime in Alabama

Crime in Alabama 2013 represents a summary of the nature and extent of the crimes reported by local criminal justice agencies to the Alabama Criminal Justice Information Center's (ACJIC) Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program. State law mandates that all crimes are reported from state, county and local law enforcement agencies, and the statistics presented in this report are compiled from these reports.

Since the UCR program is designed to provide a snapshot of criminal activity in a specific geographical area rather than as a measure of a law enforcement agency's response to crime, it should not be used to evaluate or compare one agency with another. UCR is only one aspect of the activities and responsibilities of the law enforcement community, and the statistics presented herein are not intended to serve as the sole indicator of either the workload or effectiveness of the reporting agencies.

Crime in Alabama is an annual publication of the ACJIC Statistical Analysis Center (SAC). Requests for additional information may be directed to this office at the following address:

A Message from the Director

Crime in Alabama 2013 is the thirty-eighth annual report published by the Alabama Criminal Justice Information Center's (ACJIC) Statistical Analysis Center (SAC). This report concentrates on the more serious criminal acts, technically called Part I crimes, reported to the state Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program by the state's law enforcement agencies for calendar year 2013. Also included is an overview of the less serious offenses (or Part II crimes) as well as statistics regarding arrests and recovered property. We hope this report will provide a useful snapshot of crimes occurring in our state during 2013.

We hope our efforts to continue to provide quality services to the criminal justice community are helpful to you. ACJIC looks forward to our continued publication of Crime in Alabama and to future enhancements designed to improve public safety through the provision of accurate and timely criminal justice information.

Sincerely,

Preface

The 2013 Crime in Alabama report is intended to inform law enforcement officials and private citizens of criminal and law enforcement activity in Alabama. Since the UCR offense and arrest data are the basis of this report, it must be noted that other factors affecting crime are not measured by UCR, such as age, sex, and race of the population, economic conditions of the area, transient population, culture, education, climate, attitudes of the victims toward crime and police, and crime reporting practices of the citizens. Therefore, it is difficult to draw conclusions or make valid comparisons between various jurisdictions by using only the crime and arrest data in this book. The data in this book are used for analyzing crime problems inherent in the criminal justice system and as a foundation for planning and budgeting. Geographic areas covered in this report include the State of Alabama, county and city strata.

We would like to extend our appreciation to law enforcement agencies – sheriff's departments, municipal police departments, and campus police – for their cooperation in the UCR program.

PLEASE NOTE

In 2013, the FBI UCR Program initiated collection of data under a new definition for forcible rape. The term “forcible” was removed, and the definition changed to “penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.” Rape statistics found in this report are not an actual representation of comparative data from 2013 to 2012. The historical definition of rape, as defined in 2012 and previous years, indicate there was only a three percent increase in rape statewide during 2013. Because of this change, the number of reported rapes increased in 2013 compared to 2012. The crime rate for rape per 100,000 population decreased in 2013 compared to 2012, because it now includes both male and female population, where previously it included only the female population.

Introduction

In October of 1975, Act 872 passed both houses of the Alabama Legislature creating and establishing the Alabama Criminal Justice Information Center (ACJIC) which is commissioned to collect, store, retrieve, analyze, and disseminate criminal justice data. Inherent in ACJIC is a "uniform crime reporting system for the periodic collection and analysis of crimes reported to any and all criminal justice agencies within the state." (Act 872, Section 9, 1975)

With the passage of this bill, mandatory reporting was required of law enforcement agencies in Alabama. Prior to 1976, law enforcement agencies participated in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reporting Program (UCR) on a voluntary basis. Since mandatory submission, there has been a 185% increase in UCR reporting.

Alabama's UCR program functions in accordance with the FBI's standards of operation which specify a uniform data collection device and quality control procedures which provide viable crime statistics for accurate indication of crime and crime trends.

ACJIC implemented an incident based reporting system as an alternative to UCR summary reporting in 1977. This Incident Based Reporting (IBR) System also provides a self-contained internal record keeping system for the agency. IBR is a voluntary system with 99% of Alabama's agencies participating. This reporting program is more detailed providing greater potential for services, analyses, and resource studies by both the individual agency's crime analysis units and ACJIC.

In 1986, ACJIC organized a 32-person UCR Committee to review the IBR report forms. This committee was made up of law enforcement personnel from small, medium and large police departments and sheriff's departments, computerized agencies, the FBI, and the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS). The committee reviewed and analyzed the ten year old forms and decided that enhancements were needed. The IBR report forms were redesigned with input from Alabama's local agencies. In 2006, these forms were re-designed to conform to the FBI's Nation Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS). The new forms became the official state forms in 2010.

Alabama's law enforcement agencies are supplied with monthly reporting forms by ACJIC's Field Agents who are also made available to the reporting agencies to help answer any questions which may arise regarding forms, crime classifications, and clearance data. The Field Agents are also responsible for training law enforcement personnel and maintaining the quality of information for output to the criminal justice system. Agencies may also request free software from ACJIC to record and report incident/offense and arrest activities.

Alabama's law enforcement community can be proud of the progress made in the incident reporting program. Because of the support and dedication of our law enforcement Alabama is one of the states leading the way for a national IBR system.

Crime and Arrest Data

Valid crime data can provide a solid foundation for statistical analyses, management-oriented analyses and crime breakdowns. These analyses can then aid local police departments in laying out patrol districts, assigning patrol units, and designating community education programs.

Data used in this report are provided by the Crime Statistics and Information (CSI) Division of the Alabama Criminal Justice Information Center (ACJIC). ACJIC's data center houses the official state repository for reported arrests and offenses, and the CSI Division has the responsibility of collecting and disseminating crime data. In 2013, approximately 350 agencies reported known offenses to Alabama's UCR; over 99% of Alabama's law enforcement agencies submitted Incident Reports.

Through a mandate of Congress, Arson is counted as a Part I Offense. So as not to distort crime trends in Total and Property Crime indices, Arson totals will not be included in these sections but will be included in a separate section following property crimes.

Crime data are obtained from the Part I Index of Offenses submitted by law enforcement agencies to Alabama's UCR program. These Part I Offenses are divided into Violent Crime and Property Crimes.

Violent Crimes include Homicide, Rape*, Robbery, and Assault. These crimes are considered violent inasmuch as they are offenses perpetrated against a person(s) with a high risk or injury or death to the victim(s). Property Crimes are comprised of Burglary, Larceny, Motor Vehicle Theft, and Arson*. Property or Nonviolent Crimes lack the aspect of force and/or bodily harm to the victim(s).

Clearance and arrest data are also reported to Alabama's UCR. A crime is considered cleared, either by arrest or by exceptional means, when enough evidence is found to charge a suspect and take him/her into custody. It is conceivable that one arrest could clear several offenses or that several arrests could clear one offense. The clearance rate is achieved by taking the number of clearances over the number of crimes reported:

$$\text{CLEARANCE RATE} = \frac{\text{CLEARANCES}}{\text{REPORTED CRIMES}}$$

This report is a composite picture of crime and law enforcement activity in Alabama for 2013. It provides a breakdown for the State and localities participating in the UCR program. The report concentrates on the Index Crime of the FBI's Part I Offenses and offers tabular and narrative formats for comparisons, trends, rates, and percent changes.

*Prior to 2013, Rape included only female victims. In 2013 the definition of rape was expanded by the FBI's Uniform Crime Reporting Program to include male victims and other types of sexual assault offenses. Because of this change, the number of reported rapes increased in 2013 compared to 2012.

*A separate section on arson will be included in this report.

Crime Trends from 2009-2013

* PLEASE NOTE: In 2013, the FBI UCR Program initiated collection of data under a new definition for forcible rape. The term “forcible” was removed, and the definition changed to “penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.” Rape statistics found in this report are not an actual representation of comparative data from 2013 to 2012.

Appendix B

Appendix B contains a 2013 Crime by County report. This report gives a breakdown of the seven index offenses by agency with composite county totals and rates.

Prior to 2013, Rape included only female victims. In 2013 the definition of rape was expanded by the FBI's Uniform Crime Reporting Program to include male victims and other types of sexual assault offenses. Because of this change, the number of reported rapes increased in 2013 compared to 2012.

The definition changed to "penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim." *In 2013, the FBI UCR Program initiated collection of data under a new definition for forcible rape. The definition changed to “penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.” Rape statistics found in this report are not an actual representation of comparative data from 2013 to 2012.

Appendix C

Appendix C contains Part I offense data reported by individual city police departments, county sheriff's offices, and university police departments. City data is presented first and reflects percent increase or decrease over the prior year, followed by a section with clearance data. County sheriff's departments follow the section on City data, and also reflect percent increase or decrease over prior year and clearance data.

*In 2013, the FBI UCR Program initiated collection of data under a new definition for forcible rape. The definition changed to "penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim." Rape statistics found in this report are not an actual representation of comparative data from 2013 to 2012.

City Data

Alabama's cities will include incorporated and unincorporated areas grouped by population strata.

The tables on the following pages group cities according to population and list city names alphabetically. The percent change is the increase or decrease in reported crime over 2012. The numbers in parentheses indicate the number of months the agency reported to UCR if less than twelve months.

This report does not try to account for factors which contribute to the number and type of crime in a particular area, i.e., age, sex, race of population, transients, climate, employment, etc. Any effort to make crime comparisons between one area and another should be limited in scope and acknowledge the existence of these various factors impacting the incidence of crime.

Prior to 2013, Rape included only female victims. In 2013 the definition of rape was expanded by the FBI's Uniform Crime Reporting Program to include male victims and other types of sexual assault offenses. Because of this change, the number of reported rapes increased in 2013 compared to 2012.

*In 2013, the FBI UCR Program initiated collection of data under a new definition for forcible rape. The definition changed to "penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim." Rape statistics found in this report are not an actual representation of comparative data from 2013 to 2012.

Clearance Rates

A clearance is a measure of law enforcement activity whereby enough evidence is found to charge a suspect and take him into custody (an arrest) or when a crime is solved but no formal charges are brought against a suspect (clearance by exceptional means). The clearance rate is achieved by taking the number of offenses and dividing that number into the number of clearances.

$$\frac{\text{CLEARANCES}}{\text{REPORTED OFFENSES}} = \text{CLEARANCE RATE}$$

It is important to note that clearance data is reported on a monthly basis to UCR and therefore it is possible for an arrest made in one month to clear a crime committed in previous months or years.

Prior to 2013, Rape included only female victims. In 2013 the definition of rape was Expanded by the FBI's Uniform Crime Reporting Program to include male victims and other types of sexual assault offenses. Because of this change, the number of reported rapes increased in 2013 compared to 2012.

County Data

Alabama is comprised of sixty-seven (67) counties, each averaging 756.8 square miles.

Incorporated and unincorporated areas not having a municipal police department are protected by the county sheriff and are included in his jurisdiction. Since UCR data deals with criminal activity in a particular geographic rather than with law enforcement agencies' activities, we do not intend, nor recommend, that this data be used to evaluate or compare one agency with another.

Due to diverse demographic characteristics, the county data will be presented in alphabetical order rather than by population strata. It will include reported crime and clearance data submitted by Alabama's 67 county sheriffs. County data does not include crime data submitted by municipal police departments contained within the county boundaries. The numbers in parentheses on the following pages denote the number of months the agency reported to UCR if it was less than twelve.

Clearance Rates

A clearance is a measure of law enforcement activity whereby enough evidence is found to charge a suspect and take him into custody (an arrest) or when a crime is solved but no formal charges are brought against a suspect (clearance by exceptional means). The clearance rate is achieved by taking the number of offenses and dividing that number into the number of clearances.

$$\frac{\text{CLEARANCES}}{\text{REPORTED OFFENSES}} = \text{CLEARANCE RATE}$$

It is important to note that clearance data is reported on a monthly basis to UCR and therefore it is possible for an arrest made in one month to clear a crime committed in previous months or years.
